ORDER DENYING PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDAMUS

This original proper person petition for a writ of mandamus challenges the district court's alleged failure to enter a written order in a bail bond matter so that an appeal may be taken. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Jackie Glass, Judge.

Petitioner claims that the district court orally announced at a hearing in September 2003 that it would grant summary judgment in a bail bond matter, but that as of the petition's date, approximately nine months later, no written order has been entered. Petitioner failed to provide any documentation in support of his claims. He also failed to pay the filing fee required by NRS 2.250(1)(a) and failed to serve the petition on the district judge and the other parties in the district court.¹

¹See NRAP 21(a).

We have considered this petition, and we are not satisfied that this court's intervention by way of extraordinary relief is warranted at this time.² Accordingly, we deny the petition.³

It is so ORDERED.

²If, in fact, the district court has yet to enter an appealable written order in the bail bond matter, we are confident that the omission will be remedied as soon as the district court's caseload permits.
