STEVEN MERLE COCHRAN,
Appellant,
vs.
THE STATE OF NEVADA,
Respondent.

ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

JANETTE M. BLOOM
CLERK OF SUPREME COURT
BY J. Richards
CHIEF DEPUTY CLERK

This is an appeal from an order of the district court revoking appellant's probation. Second Judicial District Court, Washoe County; Brent T. Adams, Judge. Appellant was originally convicted, pursuant to a guilty plea, of one count of possession of a controlled substance. The district court sentenced appellant to a prison term of 19 to 48 months, and suspended the sentence, placing appellant on probation for an indeterminate period not to exceed 3 years.

Appellant contends that the district court abused its discretion in revoking appellant's probation. This court has held that in order to revoke probation, the district court must be reasonably satisfied by the evidence and facts "that the conduct of the probationer has not been as good as required by the conditions of probation."<sup>1</sup> In this case, appellant admitted that in the 18 months he had been on probation, he never reported to the Division of Parole and Probation, as required. We conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion and appellant's contention is without merit. Accordingly, we

ORDER the judgment of the district court AFFIRMED.
