ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

JANETTE M. BLOOM
CLERK OF SUPREME COURT
BY J. Richard
CHIEF DEPUTY CLERK

This is a proper person appeal from a district court order affirming a justice's court order of eviction. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Michelle Leavitt, Judge.

The district court has final appellate jurisdiction over cases arising in justices' courts.¹ Accordingly, we conclude that we lack jurisdiction to consider this appeal, and we

ORDER this appeal DISMISSED.²

¹See Nev. Const. art. 6, § 6; Pan v. Dist. Ct., 120 Nev. 222, 227, 88 P.3d 840, 843 (2004).

²We note that appellant's failure to file a civil proper person appeal statement, as directed in the civil proper person appeal pilot program documents mailed to appellant on September 15, 2005, constitutes an independent basis for dismissal. See ADKT No. 385 (Order Establishing Pilot Program in Civil Appeals, June 10, 2005), Exhibit A (Instructions for Civil Litigants Without Attorneys).
