CHIEF DEPUTY CLERK

ORDER DISMISSING APPEALS

These appeals were initiated by proper person notices of appeal. Second Judicial District Court, Washoe County; Jerome Polaha, Judge. We elect to consolidate these appeals for disposition.<sup>1</sup>

This court's preliminary review of these appeals reveals jurisdictional defects. On February 2, 2006, appellant filed proper person notices of appeal in the district court. The notices of appeal are unintelligible and fail to designate any appealable orders. To the extent that appellant is attempting to appeal from decisions of the district court made during the criminal proceedings pending in the district court, appellant is cautioned that he may not independently appeal from such decisions.<sup>2</sup> Rather, if appellant is convicted, appellant may raise any claims relating to the trial proceedings on direct appeal.<sup>3</sup> Accordingly, we

ORDER these appeals DISMISSED.<sup>4</sup>
