ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

JANETTE M. BLOOM
CLERK OF SUPREME COURT
BY J. Richard
CHIEF DEPUTY CLERK

This is a proper person appeal from an amended judgment of conviction. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Lee A. Gates, Judge.

On January 19, 1993, the district court convicted appellant, pursuant to a guilty plea, of one count of first degree kidnapping with the use of a deadly weapon and one count of attempted murder with the use of a deadly weapon. The district court sentenced appellant to serve two consecutive terms of life with the possibility of parole in the Nevada State Prison and two consecutive terms of fifteen years. The latter terms were imposed to run concurrently to the former. This court dismissed appellant's direct appeal from his judgment of conviction.<sup>1</sup>

On March 6, 2006, appellant filed a proper person motion to amend the judgment of conviction in the district court. The State did not oppose granting the motion. On April 3, 2006, the district court granted the motion, and on April 12, 2006, the district court entered an amended judgment of conviction. This appeal followed.

Based upon our review of the record on appeal, we conclude that we lack jurisdiction to consider this appeal. Appellant moved the district court to amend the judgment of conviction because it did not clearly specify that the minimum parole terms for kidnapping and the deadly weapon enhancement were five years. The district court amended the judgment of conviction to reflect minimum parole terms of five years for kidnapping and the deadly weapon enhancement. Appellant is not an aggrieved party in this appeal. The judgment of conviction was amended as requested by appellant, and thus no appellate issues may be raised attacking the amended judgment of conviction. Accordingly, we

ORDER this appeal DISMISSED.<sup>2</sup>
