ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

This is a proper person appeal from a district court order denying appellant's motion for publication of summons. Second Judicial District Court, Washoe County; Janet J. Berry, Judge.

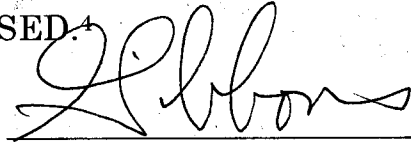

Our review of the documents transmitted to this court pursuant to NRAP 3(e) reveals jurisdictional defects. This court has jurisdiction to consider an appeal only when the appeal is authorized by statute or court rule.¹ No statute or court rule authorizes an appeal from an order denying a motion for publication of summons.² Once the district court has entered a written final judgment resolving the underlying case, ²See NRAP 3A(b) (listing orders and judgments from which an appeal may be taken).

appellant, if aggrieved, may file an appeal from that judgment.³
Accordingly, as we lack jurisdiction over this appeal, we ³See Lee v. GNLV Corp., 116 Nev. 424, 996 P.2d 416 (2000) (noting that a final judgment is one that disposes of all the issues presented in the case and leaves nothing for the future consideration of the court except for post-judgment issues such as attorney fees and costs).

⁴In light of this order, appellant need not file the civil proper person appeal statement or transcript request form sent to him on September 27, 2007.
