ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is a proper person appeal from a district court order that entered a default judgment in favor of respondents and awarded them attorney fees and costs. Our review of the record demonstrates that the district court did not abuse its discretion in sanctioning appellant's multiple failures to obey discovery orders by entering a default judgment and awarding attorney fees.¹ The district court's award of costs was also appropriate under NRS 18.020, which provides for costs to prevailing parties.²

¹See NRCP 37(b) (authorizing as sanctions for discovery abuse the entry of default judgment and award of attorney fees and costs incurred due to the discovery abuse).

²Although appellant was not granted leave to file papers in proper person, see NRAP 46(b), we have considered the proper person documents received from appellant.

Accordingly, we

ORDER the judgment of the district court AFFIRMED.
