ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

This is a proper person appeal from an adjudication of contempt. We have reviewed the record, and we conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion. See NRS 22.010 (disobedience of a lawful order constitutes contempt); Guerin v. Guerin, 114 Nev. 127, 953 P.2d 716 (1998) (an order of contempt is reviewed for abuse of discretion); Schouweiler v. Yancey Co., 101 Nev. 827, 831, 712 P.2d 786, 789 (1985) (when evidence on which the district court's judgment rests is not included in the record, it is assumed that the record supports the district court's findings). Accordingly, we

ORDER this appeal dismissed.¹

¹On November 4, 1999, we stayed this appeal because it was subject to an automatic stay pursuant to appellant's federal bankruptcy proceedings. On March 10, 2000, appellant filed a status report noting that the bankruptcy court had lifted the automatic stay as to this appeal. Accordingly, we vacate the stay entered on November 4, 1999.
