ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

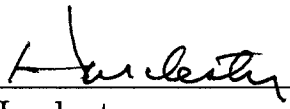

This is a proper person appeal from an interlocutory district court order appointing a receivership. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Michelle Leavitt, Judge.

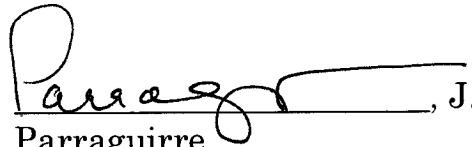

On March 18, 2011, we entered an order directing appellant to show cause why this appeal was not moot, as it appeared that the district court order appointing a receiver did so only during the pendency of the district court case. Appellant filed her response to the order to show cause as directed. Having reviewed the district court record and appellant's response, we conclude that this appeal is moot. The district court has entered a default judgment against appellant and an order closing the case. As the order appointing a receiver stated that it was effective only during the pendency of the district court case, and that case has been closed, we conclude that the receivership has ended and this appeal is moot. See Personhood Nevada v. Bristol, 126 Nev. ___, ___, 245 P.3d 572,

574 (2010) (stating that this court's duty is to decide actual controversies, not to give opinions on moot questions). Accordingly, we

ORDER this appeal DISMISSED.
