ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

This is a proper person appeal from a district court order denying reconsideration and an oral ruling granting a motion to dismiss a counter-claim. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Mark R. Denton, Judge.

Our review of this appeal reveals a jurisdictional defect. Specifically, it appears that the district court orders appellant seeks to appeal from do not resolve all claims against all parties, because several claims appear to remain pending below. Consequently, it appears that the district court has not entered a final, appealable judgment.¹

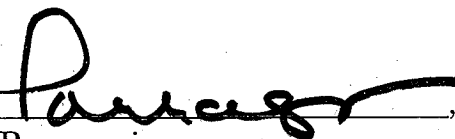

¹See Lee v. GNLV Corp., 116 Nev. 424, 426, 996 P.2d 416, 417 (2000) (holding that “a final judgment is one that disposes of all the issues presented in the case, and leaves nothing for the future consideration of the court, except for post-judgment issues such as attorney's fees and costs”). We note that appellant may raise any issues with respect to the court's orders that removed the other respondents from this case in an appeal from the final judgment. See Consolidated Generator v. Cummins Engine, 114 Nev. 1304, 1312, 971 P.2d 1251, 1256 (1998) (holding that a party may challenge interlocutory orders in the context of an appeal from

Moreover, an oral ruling may not be appealed.² Finally, an order denying reconsideration is not appealable.³ Accordingly, as we lack jurisdiction over this appeal, we

ORDER this appeal DISMISSED.
