ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

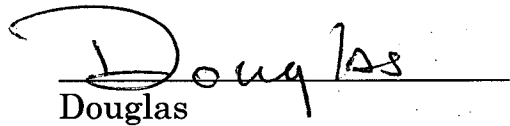

This is a proper person appeal from a district court oral ruling denying appellant's request for a temporary restraining order. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Susan Johnson, Judge.

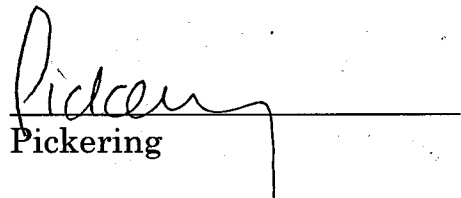

Appellant seeks to challenge the district court's oral ruling denying a temporary restraining order in the underlying case. No appeal may be taken, however, from a district court's oral ruling. Rust v. Clark Cty. School District, 103 Nev. 686, 689, 747 P.2d 1380, 1382 (1987). Only a final written judgment has any effect, and thus, only a written judgment may be appealed. Id. Moreover, even if a written order had been entered, no appeal may be taken from an order denying a temporary restraining order. Sugarman Co. v. Morse Bros., 50 Nev. 191, 198, 255 P. 1010, 1012 (1927) (indicating that, although an order granting injunctive relief may be appealed, no appeal may be taken from a temporary restraining order); see also In re Temporary Custody of Five Minors, 105 Nev. 441, 777 P.2d 901 (1989) (holding that no appeal may be taken from a temporary order subject to periodic mandatory review); NRCP 65(b) (providing that a temporary restraining order expires automatically after no more than 15 days, unless extended following further review or a preliminary injunction under NRCPC 65(a) is granted). Accordingly, as we lack jurisdiction, we
