ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is a proper person appeal from a district court order affirming and modifying the master's recommendations concerning child support. Third Judicial District Court, Churchill County; William Rogers, Judge.

Having reviewed appellant's proper person civil appeal statement and the district court record, we conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion in affirming and modifying the master's recommendations concerning child support. Wallace v. Wallace, 112 Nev. 1015, 1019, 922 P.2d 541, 543 (1996) (providing that child support matters rest within the district court's sound discretion). Here, the district court affirmed the master's findings and recommendations for support, which provided that appellant was responsible for paying $100 a month in child support. The district court modified the child support arrears to accurately reflect the appropriate months of support that appellant was obligated to pay. Thus, we conclude that the district court record supports the district court's order and that the district court did not abuse its discretion. Accordingly, we

ORDER the judgment of the district court AFFIRMED.¹
