ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

This is an appeal from a district court summary judgment in a torts action. Second Judicial District Court, Washoe County; Patrick Flanagan, Judge.

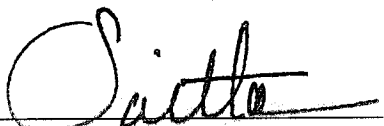

Attached to appellants' November 30, 2010, response to our second order to show cause why this appeal should not be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction were stipulations and orders addressing three defendants against whom claims appeared to remain pending in the consolidated action below: Forepee, Inc.; Airepair, Inc.; and Mansberger Aircraft.<sup>1</sup> Appellants agreed, however, that the Estate of Howle case has not been formally resolved by written district court order. Valley Bank of Nevada v. Ginsburg, 110 Nev. 440, 446, 874 P.2d 729, 733 (1994) (noting that a district court order approving a settlement agreement does not constitute a formal dismissal or otherwise finally resolve the claims before the court). Although appellants indicated that an order resolving that action was forthcoming, to date, no such order has been submitted to this court. As a result, it appears that the district court has not yet entered a final, appealable order, and thus we lack jurisdiction. NRAP 3A(b)(1); Lee v. GNLV Corp., 116 Nev. 424, 996 P.2d 416 (2000). Accordingly, we <sup>2</sup>This dismissal is without prejudice to appellants' right to appeal from the district court's final judgment. Any such notice of appeal should be followed by a timely docketing statement that fully addresses the resolution of all claims, counterclaims, and cross-claims in the three consolidated actions below. See, e.g., Docketing Statement items 21, 22, and 23.

<sup>1</sup>Appellants explained that Forepee, Inc., was not served and not named in the second amended complaint. Appellants also demonstrated that The Leasing Company had been dismissed from the action. The attached stipulation with regard to Mansberger Aircraft was not signed by counsel for the Estate of Howle or by the district court, however.
