ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is a proper person appeal from an order of the district court dismissing appellant's post-conviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus.¹ Seventh Judicial District Court, White Pine County; Dan L. Papez, Judge.

In his petition filed on March 26, 2009, appellant challenged a prison disciplinary hearing that resulted in placement in disciplinary segregation, restitution costs, and the forfeiture of statutory good time credits.² Based upon our review of the record on appeal, we conclude that the district court did not err in determining that appellant failed to ¹This appeal has been submitted for decision without oral argument, NRAP 34(f)(3), and we conclude that the record is sufficient for our review and briefing is unwarranted. See Lockett v. Warden, 91 Nev. 681, 682, 541 P.2d 910, 911 (1975).

²To the extent that appellant challenged his placement in disciplinary segregation or restitution costs, the challenge was not permissible in a post-conviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Bowen v. Warden, 100 Nev. 489, 686 P.2d 250 (1984).

demonstrate a violation of a protected due process right. Superintendent v. Hill, 472 U.S. 445, 455 (1985) (holding that requirements of due process are met if some evidence supports the decision by the prison disciplinary hearing officer); Wolff v. McDonnell, 418 U.S. 539, 556, 563-69 (1974) (setting forth the requirements for minimal due process and specifically declining the right to confront and cross-examine witnesses). Any claims challenging alleged violations of various other prison regulations and the training of prison staff, which are not set forth in Wolff, do not implicate due process in this case and failed to provide a basis for challenging the prison disciplinary hearing. See Sandin v. Conner, 515 U.S. 472, 483-84 (1995); NDOC A.R. 707.01(10). Accordingly, we
