ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

The parties to this appeal have submitted a stipulation to dismiss this appeal. We approve the stipulation and dismiss this appeal. NRAP 42(b). Pursuant to the parties' stipulation, the parties shall bear their own fees and costs with regard to this appeal.

It is so ORDERED.¹

C.J.

¹The stipulation further provides that the parties have stipulated that respondent will accept service of process in the underlying case, that the order granting respondent's motion to dismiss appellant's case will be vacated, and that this matter should be remanded to the district court for further proceedings. We conclude that we need not take action on these additional requests. Upon the dismissal of this appeal on the parties' stipulation, jurisdiction over the underlying case returns to the district court, rendering a remand unnecessary. And to the extent that further relief, such as vacating the district court's dismissal order, is necessary to effectuate the parties' stipulation, any such relief should be sought in the district court.
