ORDER DENYING PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDAMUS

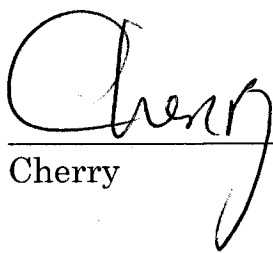

This original petition for a writ of mandamus challenges district court rulings regarding petitioners' demand for a jury trial and motion for summary judgment and misconduct allegedly committed by the district court in the course of the underlying proceedings.

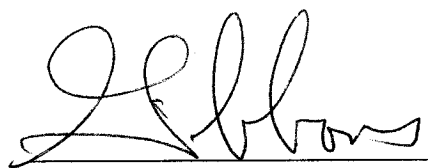

A writ of mandamus is an extraordinary remedy, and the decision to entertain a petition requesting such relief is within this court's discretion. Smith v. District Court, 107 Nev. 674, 818 P.2d 849 (1991). Petitioners bear the burden of demonstrating that this court's intervention by way of extraordinary relief is warranted. Pan v. Dist. Ct., 120 Nev.

222, 228, 88 P.3d 840, 844 (2004). Having considered the petition and supporting documents, we are not satisfied that our intervention by way of extraordinary relief is warranted. Accordingly, we deny the petition. Smith, 107 Nev. 674, 818 P.2d 849; NRAP 21(b)(1). We note, however, that our denial of this petition does not preclude petitioners, if aggrieved, from raising these arguments in any appeal from a final judgment entered by the district court.

It is so ORDERED.
