ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is a proper person appeal from an order of the district court denying a motion for sentence modification.¹ Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Kathy A. Hardcastle, Judge.

In his motion filed on July 27, 2010, appellant claimed that the sentence in the instant case should be imposed to run concurrently to the sentence imposed in district court case number C241856. Appellant noted that at the time he was sentenced in this case, the judgment of conviction in district court case number C241856 contained a clerical error in that case regarding the sentence and that clerical error made it appear as if he received a lenient sentence in district court case number C241856. Subsequent to his sentencing in this case, the district court amended the judgment of conviction in district court case number C241856. Appellant further complained that the district court referred to multiple armed robberies at sentencing. Appellant failed to demonstrate that the district court relied on mistaken assumptions regarding his criminal record that worked to his extreme detriment. See Edwards v. State, 112 Nev. 704, 708, 918 P.2d 321, 324 (1996). We therefore conclude that the district court did not err in denying appellant's motion. Accordingly, we
