ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

This is a proper person appeal from a district court summary judgment. Second Judicial District Court, Washoe County; Brent T. Adams, Judge.

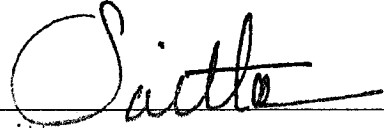

Our review of the documents before us on appeal reveals a jurisdictional defect. Specifically, it appears that the order appellant is challenging is not a final, appealable judgment. See NRAP 3A(b)(1) (providing for an appeal from a final judgment in an action or proceeding). A final judgment is one that disposes of all issues presented in the case, and leaves nothing for the future consideration of the district court, except for post-judgment issues such as attorney fees and costs. Lee v. GNLV Corp., 116 Nev. 424, 996 P.2d 416 (2000). Here, nothing in the documentation before this court reflects a disposition of appellant's claims against June Stough or Ali Rivera.¹ Accordingly, as it appears that a final ¹It is not clear whether Rivera was served with the summons and complaint; if he was not, he is not a party for purposes of determining finality. Rae v. All American Life & Cas. Co., 95 Nev. 920, 605 P.2d 196 (1979).

judgment has not been entered in the underlying case, we lack jurisdiction to consider this appeal and we
