ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

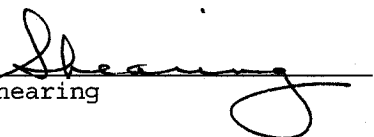

This is a proper person appeal from an order granting in part and denying in part appellant's motions related to spousal and child support. The district court's order meticulously sets forth the contentions of the parties and the reasons for the district court's decision. Having carefully reviewed the record, we conclude that the district court properly interpreted the statutes concerning jurisdiction over support obligations and those concerning interest and penalties on obligations for child and spousal support. See NRS 130.205(1)(a); NRS 130.205(6); NRS 130.601-604; NRS 125B.140; NRS 125B.095. We further conclude that the district court properly exercised its discretion with respect to the obligations for child support and spousal support. See Wolff v. Wolff, 112 Nev. 1355, 929 P.2d 916 (1996) (holding that spousal support is within district court's discretion); Wallace v. Wallace, 112 Nev. 1015, 922 P.2d 541 (1996) (to like effect with respect to child support). Accordingly, having discerned no error or abuse of discretion mandating reversal, we

ORDER this appeal dismissed.
