

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

BISHOP LOTT,
Appellant,
vs.
BRIAN WILLIAMS, WARDEN,
Respondent.

No. 71946

ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is a pro se appeal from an order of the district court denying a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus.<sup>1</sup> Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Linda Marie Bell, Judge.

In his June 16, 2016, petition, appellant Bishop Lott argued that the Nevada Department of Corrections had not properly applied his good time credits to his minimum term and that he should receive an additional 150 days of work credit because he was willing to work. We conclude that the district court did not err in denying his petition. NRS 209.4465(8)(d) precludes application of statutory good time credits to his minimum term because robbery is a category B felony.<sup>2</sup> NRS 209.4465(2) provides for work credit for "diligence in labor and study." Because Lott did
