ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

Gilberto Farias-Adame appeals from a district court order denying the postconviction petitions for writs of habeas corpus he filed on July 8, 2016, and July 12, 2016.¹ Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Linda Marie Bell, Judge.

In his petitions, Farias-Adame claimed the Nevada Department of Corrections was not applying the statutory credits he had earned to his minimum sentence as required by NRS 209.4465(7)(b). The district court found Farias-Adame was not entitled to good-time credit deductions from his parole eligibility date because he was serving a sentence based on a category B felony for criminal conduct he committed in 2011.

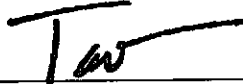

We conclude the district court correctly determined Farias-Adame was not entitled to have credits deducted from his minimum sentences because he committed his crime after NRS 209.4465 was amended in 2007 and NRS 209.4465(8)(d) excludes category B felons like Farias-Adame from receiving credit toward their minimum sentence. See ¹This appeal has been submitted for decision without oral argument and we conclude the record is sufficient for our review and briefing is unwarranted. NRAP 34(f)(3), (g).

NRS 453.3385(1)(b); 2007 Nev. Stat., ch. 525, § 5, at 3177; see generally Robert E. v. Justice Court of Reno Twp., 99 Nev. 443, 445, 664 P.2d 957, 959 (1983) (“When presented with a question of statutory interpretation, the intent of the legislature is the controlling factor and, if the statute under consideration is clear on its face, a court cannot go beyond the statute in determining legislative intent.”). Accordingly, we
