ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

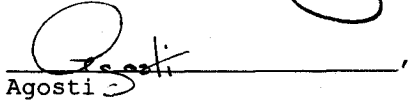

This is an appeal from an order of the district court dismissing an appeal from justice's court. Our preliminary review revealed a potential jurisdictional defect. The district courts have final appellate jurisdiction in cases arising in justice's and municipal courts. See Nev. Const. art. 6, § 6; Tripp v. City of Sparks, 92 Nev. 362, 550 P.2d 419 (1976); Waugh v. Casazza, 85 Nev. 520, 458 P.2d 359 (1969). When the district court acts in its appellate capacity, this court lacks appellate jurisdiction over the district court.

Accordingly, on October 24, 2000, this court ordered counsel for appellant to show cause why this appeal should not be dismissed. On November 7, 2000, counsel for appellant filed a response to this court's order. In the response, counsel for appellant concedes that this court lacks jurisdiction to entertain this appeal. Having concluded that this court lacks jurisdiction in this matter, we
