ORDER DENYING PETITIONS

These original petitions for a writ of mandamus seek an order directing the district court to enforce its prior orders directing Vernon Wesley's prior counsel to provide Wesley with a copy of his file. We have considered the petitions, and we are not satisfied this court's intervention by way of extraordinary writ is warranted at this time. See NRS 34.160; Pan v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court, 120 Nev. 222, 228, 88 P.3d 840, 844 (2004) ("Petitioner[] carr[ies] the burden of demonstrating that extraordinary relief is warranted."). The records before this court indicate the district court granted Wesley's requests on at least two occasions and ordered counsel to provide Wesley with a copy of the record. Although Wesley asserts his counsel still has not complied with those orders, nothing in the record indicates that Wesley has sought enforcement of the most recent order in the district court. Wesley should seek enforcement of the district court's order in the district court before seeking extraordinary relief in this court. Accordingly, without deciding upon the merits of any claims raised, we

ORDER the petitions DENIED.
