ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

Glenn Darnell Dean appeals from a district court order denying a motion to modify and/or correct an illegal sentence filed on April 23, 2018.¹ Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Kathleen E. Delaney, Judge.

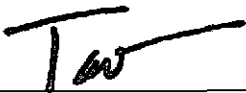

Dean claimed his sentences should be set aside because the sentencing judge based them on his own personal feelings about Dean and failed to articulate findings for each sentencing factor enumerated in NRS 193.165(1). Dean's claims fell outside the narrow scope of claims permissible in a motion to modify or correct an illegal sentence. See Edwards v. State, 112 Nev. 704, 708, 918 P.2d 321, 324 (1996). Therefore, without the considering the merits of any of the claims raised in the motion, we conclude the district court did not err by denying the motion.

Dean argues the district court erred by entertaining oral argument at a hearing where Dean, proceeding in pro se, was not present. Dean's claim is belied by the record. The district court specifically stated it was not entertaining argument and then summarized the arguments the
