ORDER DENYING PETITION

In this original petition for a writ of coram nobis, Abdul Howard states he is challenging his sentence and alleges that, because he only agreed to plead guilty to an offense of coercion that was not sexually motivated, he is being wrongly considered as a tier 3 sex offender. Howard asks this court to remove any language from his judgment of conviction that would indicate the offense was sexually motivated and hold that he “is not a tier (1), (2), or (3) sex offender child predator.” We have reviewed the petition and conclude this court’s intervention by way of extraordinary writ is not warranted. Howard’s claim falls outside the limited scope of claims that may be raised in a petition for a writ of coram nobis because his claim “would not have precluded the judgment from being entered in the first place." Trujillo v. State, 129 Nev. 706, 717, 310 P.3d 594, 601-02 (2013).

Accordingly, we

ORDER the petition DENIED.
