ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

Appellant purports to appeal in proper person from an order of the district court denying his motion for production of documents. Our review of this appeal reveals a jurisdictional defect. The right to appeal is statutory; where no statute or court rule provides for an appeal, no right to appeal exists.¹ No statute or court rule provides for an appeal from order of the district court denying a motion for production of documents. Moreover, we note that the documents before this court indicate that appellant's motion for production of documents was granted by the district court on January 22, 2001. Thus, appellant is not an aggrieved party. Accordingly, we

ORDER this appeal DISMISSED.
