

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

RODNEY SHAWN TAYLOR,

No. 37423

Appellant,

vs.

THE STATE OF NEVADA,

Respondent.

CHIEF DEPUTY CLERK

ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

This is an appeal from a judgment of conviction, pursuant to a guilty plea, of lewdness with a child under the age of 14 years. The district court sentenced appellant to serve a term of life in prison with the possibility of parole after 10 years, to be served consecutively to any other sentence that appellant was serving. The district court further imposed a special sentence of lifetime supervision to commence upon appellant's release from prison or any period of parole. Pursuant to NRAP 34(f)(1), we have determined that oral argument is not warranted in this appeal.

Appellant's sole contention is that his guilty plea is invalid because the district court failed to advise him during the plea canvass that he faced a special sentence of lifetime supervision. Appellant acknowledges the general rule, set forth in Bryant v. State,<sup>1</sup> that this court will not consider challenges to the validity of a guilty plea on direct appeal from a judgment of conviction. But he argues that this case falls within the narrow exception to that rule set forth in Lyons v. State<sup>2</sup> and

Smith v. State.<sup>3</sup> We disagree and conclude that the general rule set forth in Bryant is applicable in this case. Accordingly, we decline to consider the issue raised by appellant, and we
