ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is a pro se appeal from a district court order denying a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Erika D. Ballou, Judge. We affirm.¹

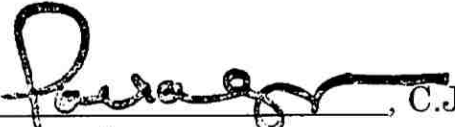

Appellant Corey B. Johnson challenges the district court's August 31, 2021, order denying several pleadings treated collectively as a habeas petition challenging the revocation of Johnson's parole and the computation of his credits. Johnson previously filed a postconviction habeas petition challenging the parole revocation, which the district court denied in a November 25, 2020, order. As that decision was on the merits and Johnson has not alleged new or different grounds in the instant matter, the petition was successive. NRS 34.810(2). The petition was thus procedurally barred absent a showing of good cause and actual prejudice, which Johnson did not plead. See NRS 34.810(3). The district court therefore correctly applied the mandatory procedural bar. See State v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court (Riker), 121 Nev. 225, 231, 112 P.3d 1070, 1074 (2005).

¹Having considered the pro se brief filed by appellant, we conclude that a response is not necessary, NRAP 46A(c), and that oral argument is not warranted, NRAP 34(f)(3). This appeal therefore has been decided based on the pro se brief and the record. Id.

Accordingly, we
