

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

ROBERT JACK BROWN,
Appellant,
vs.
CONNIE L. ADAMS,
Respondent.

No. 39101

FILED

FEB 05 2003

ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

JAFETTE M. BLOOM
CLERK OF SUPREME COURT
BY J. Rubarb
CHIEF DEPUTY CLERK

This is a proper person appeal from a district court order expunging appellant's mechanic's lien. We have reviewed the record, and we conclude that the district court did not err.¹

Accordingly, we

ORDER the judgment of the district court AFFIRMED.²

¹See Milender v. Marcum, 110 Nev. 972, 879 P.2d 748 (1994) (stating that this court may affirm the district court's decision on grounds different from those relied upon by the district court); NRS 108.222(2) (providing that if a license is required for the work, only a licensed contractor may have a mechanic's lien); see, e.g., NAC 624.200(1) (requiring a classification C-2 license to install electrical wires, fixtures, appliances, apparatuses, raceways, and conduits); NAC 624.210(2)(a) & (1) (requiring a classification C-3 license to fabricate, install, and repair wood structures).

²Although appellant has not been granted permission to file documents in this matter in proper person, see NRAP 46(b), we have received and considered appellant's proper person documents.
