CHIEF DEPUTY CLERK

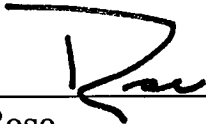

ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is a proper person appeal from a district court order denying an NRCP 60(b) motion and, in the alternative, denying a motion to modify child custody under NRS 125.510. Having reviewed the record on appeal, we conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion when it denied appellant's NRCP 60(b) motion,¹ and denied appellant's alternative motion to modify child custody after it determined that ¹Carlson v. Carlson, 108 Nev. 358, 361, 832 P.2d 380, 382 (1992) (stating that "[m]otions under NRCP 60(b) are within the sound discretion of the district court, and this court will not disturb the district court's decision absent an abuse of discretion").

Nevada is not the child's home state.² Accordingly, we

ORDER the judgment of the district court AFFIRMED.³

²NRS 125A.050(1)(a) (providing that a court of this state has jurisdiction to make a child custody determination if this state is the home state of the child or the child has lived in this state for six months previous to commencement of the proceedings).

³Although appellant was not granted leave to file papers in proper person, see NRAP 46(b), we have considered the proper person documents received from him and we deny the relief requested therein.
