ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

This is a proper person appeal from a decision of the district court denying appellant's "motion to give facts and conclusions of law on all motions and writs." Our review of this appeal reveals a jurisdictional defect. The right to appeal is statutory; where no statute or court rule provides for an appeal, no right to appeal exists.¹ No statute or court rule provides for an appeal from a decision of the district court denying a "motion to give facts and conclusions of law on all motions and writs." Accordingly, we

ORDER this appeal DISMISSED.²

Shearing, J.

Leavitt, J.

Becker, J.

¹Castillo v. State, 106 Nev. 349, 792 P.2d 1133 (1990).

²We have considered all proper person documents filed or received in this matter, and we conclude that the relief requested is not warranted.
