ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is a proper person appeal from a district court order that confirmed an arbitration award. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Valerie Adair, Judge.

An arbitration award may be vacated if the arbitrator manifestly disregards the law.¹ In addition, Nevada law provides various statutory provisions for vacating an arbitration award. In particular, an arbitration award will be vacated if it was procured by corruption, fraud or other undue means; if there was evident partiality or corruption by the arbitrator; if misconduct by an arbitrator prejudiced the rights of a party to the proceeding; if the arbitrator exceeded his powers; if there was no agreement to arbitrate; or if proper notice of the arbitration was not given.²

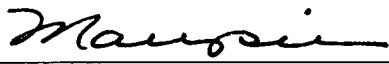

¹Bohlmann v. Printz, 120 Nev. ___, 96 P.3d 1155 (2004); Wichinsky v. Mosa, 109 Nev. 84, 847 P.2d 727 (1993).

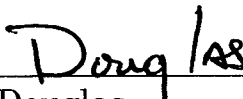

²NRS 38.241(1).

Our review of the record reveals that the appellant did not demonstrate a substantial basis for vacating the arbitration award. Accordingly, we affirm the district court's order.

It is so ORDERED.³
