

"I lost the first round. I am truly confused how one can falsely publish on Facebook I robbed someone in a Walmart parking lot and that I had "many" firings and that is protected speech. Of course, I'm appealing immediately. People should be able to say any opinion about lawyers but it is important that they not be able to lie about facts. This is important so people can sort the good lawyers from the bad so it's important to society."